This is you, ZERO!

And this is the Castle of Infinite Sadness.

History

In the Castle of Infinite Sadness live evil entities that are spreading sadness all over the world. People, who suddenly have no lust for living, are commiting suicide.

The government is sending ships to destroy the castle and its evil forces but the power of sadness spreads through the water and no one is able to reach the castle.

When, suddenly, a rocket flies through the sky. The laughing in the castle stops and ZERO reaches the last floor of the castle.

Now he is trying to clean all the floors from the evil entities in order to bring peace again.

Will you help him to succeed?
